TOLEDO MAN EXPECTED TO DIE

D. L. Bower, treasurer and manager of the New Overland Real Estate Exchange at Toledo, thought death was close upon him. He suffered from derangement of the stomach and digestive tract and his condition was highly discouraging.

He took Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. Then he cheered up and went to eating. He had new interest in life.

J. W. Wood, Mr. Bower's partner, wrote:

"This remedy is surely one of the greatest medicines I ever heard of. My partner spent $2,000 with renowned doctors in trying to get relief. He gave himself until about the 20th of September to live. He has taken three doses of your remedy. Now he can eat and sleep without any distress."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfied factory money will be returned.

PEANUT POLITICS ENTERS O. S. U.

The political interference with the conduct of affairs at the Ohio State university threatens the worst possible results for the future of Ohio's great educational institution. Especially is this true of the agricultural department, where in collusion with President Thompson, Governor Willis appears to have reached through the mean board of trustees, to secure the demotion of Dean Homer C. Price, a Republican, whose crime was that he had been honored by Governor Cox in spite of his politics. Now Dean Price will resign the place he made and has held for fourteen years and of which he has made a success. The political domination and interference will not have reached its worst until not only is the agricultural department ruined, but every branch of the university depreciated. As a result of the scandal which is growing, parents are writing their sons in the agricultural college to close up their work as they feel the best results cannot be had from an institution of learning where pretty politics is allowed to interfere with matters of education as in the case of actions since Governor Willis assumed office.

As the days pass and Dean Price is denied the reason for the action taken against him, the reason is being supplied by others. Appearing first is the jealousy of President Thompson, whose desire is for all things great and small, it further is shown that Governor Willis took advantage of that jealousy to secure the automatic removal of the dean from the state agricultural commission.

Other things that the educational facilities of the state are threatened, and if the present tendency of the state government and the Ohio State university management is allowed to continue, the farming interests of the state will lose such support as is now coming to the agricultural interests from the federal government through the agencies and economies fostered by the preceding state administration.

W. Elliott, supt. The class consisted of 15 girls and 12 boys as follows: Mildred Breyley, Cornelia Sonnanstine, Bessie Gish, Margaret Miller, Martha Mills, Mary Overholt, Helen Taylor, Mildred Auble, Mary Moutse, Ruth Overholt, Ruth Johnson Mildred Rickard, Mabel Koppes, Dorothy Freed. Boys—Clair Kremer, Leon Miller, Herman Kreider, Leonard Bowman, Earl Baker, Wayne Young, Ernest Gilbert, John Dickerson, Ross Hartman, Leslie Blough, Wade Hart, D. Hart.

A meeting of the men interested in the new street railway from Cleveland to Wooster here last week brought out the most optimistic assurances yet had in regard to the building of the line. The condition of the various funds to be raised at all the towns along the route for surveying and engineering was recently improved and there is every assurance that each will subscribe its desired quota, according to officials. At present all the right-of-way between Cleveland and Wadsworth, except through one farm, has been secured. Wadsworth is the only larger town whose funds for surveying and engineering falls short of the mark, several hundred dollars being lacking at this time.

MCCURDY LOSES JOB

W. A. McCurdy, state school inspector and supervisor of school centralization work, who has made numerous visits to this and adjoining counties to make addresses on school subjects, will be ousted from the state service by the failure of the house finance committee to include provision for his salary.

Opposition to the spread of centralized schools rather than economy is given as the real reason for omitting an appropriation for salary of this official. It is known that some of the finance committee are opposed to centralization and also to some of the state supervisors.

Unless the appropriation is restored in the bill, McCurdy will have to quit June 30. He offered to resign if another was desired in his place rather than have the office abolished, but that plan was not acceptable.
